

Democratic Republic of Congo newspapers from Northwestern Microfilming Proposal

Description and Rationale

Title

Project Description*

1. Northwestern University Library proposes to arrange for the microfilming through CAMP of about 53,000 pages of two newspapers and a supplement from the Democratic Republic of Congo
 - a. La prospérité : journal d'actions pour la démocratie et le développement (Prospérité (Kinshasa, Congo))
 - b. La saga (Saga (Kinshasa, Congo) – Supplement to La prospérité
 - c. La Référence plus

Reasons for Consideration*

The Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) is the second largest country in Africa and the largest in Sub-Saharan Africa. Though endowed with vast natural resources, the economy continues to perform very poorly. The DRC has experienced instability and conflict dating back to its first coup in 1965. La Référence Plus dates back to the 90s when Mobutu Sese Seko, who ruled the country for 32 years, was still the president. It was in the early 90s too that the country experienced great refugee inflow from fighting in Rwanda and Burundi. Both newspapers span the 2000s when there were a series of peace accords, constitutional referendums and elections.

These are two newspapers from a country with a varied history and which are not readily available elsewhere. Worldcat shows only Northwestern owns La prospérité and its supplement and only two other libraries own La Référence plus.
